

Heatmap visualization of gene expression data across 368 samples. The color scale ranges from dark blue (low expression) to dark red (high expression). The samples are ordered by hierarchical clustering, showing distinct clusters of genes with similar expression patterns.